GOOD NEWS

Lord God, you have called your servants to ventures of which we cannot see the ending, by paths as yet untrodden, through perils unknown. Give us faith to go out with good courage, not knowing where we go, but only that your hand is leading us and your love supporting us; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

Prayer from the "Lutheran Book of Worship." & "Evangelical Lutheran Worship"

The above prayer is something I have been using as our post-communion prayer for about six-months now. I actually found it on a pastor's page on Facebook but have since learned that is a prayer from our old hymnal, the LBW and that it is also found in the Morning Prayer service in our ELW. I really like this prayer and actually use it not just in worship now, but also in my own devotional life.

Why does this prayer speak to me? Well, the first thing is that it acknowledges the uncertainty of life. We have no idea what is going to happen in our lives. We don't know what twists and turns might be. Like a great novel, there are always surprises and sometimes those surprises are filled with joy and at other times they are filled with heartbreak (see: Bears game against Packers, Packers against 49ers). Every day we do not know what will happen, where we will go, how our lives might change.

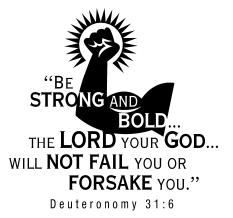

This is where our faith comes in. We go out into the world with all its uncertainty not timidly but with boldness. Though the world is full of questions, of "I don't knows," of uncertainty, we do have one thing we can count on: Jesus Christ is with us. After all, Christ has promised to be with us always till the end of the age. We know that Jesus is supporting us and loving us no matter what life throws at us. No matter what happens, our Savior Jesus Christ is there for us, guiding us and leading us.

President Franklin Roosevelt said, "The only thing we have to fear is fear itself."

Because Christ is with us, we have nothing to fear. He has called us his servants to live in the boldness of courage and faith, trusting that we are loved and redeemed children of God. Let us live with boldness and courage every day because Jesus Christ is our Savior who had died for us, delivered us, and walks with us every day.

Yours in Christ,

Pastor Brad

SUNDAY SCHOOL LETTER/SERVICE GROUPS

A Letter From the Sunday School Staff

Dear Trinity Members and Sunday School Parents,

The Trinity Sunday School administrative team would like to draw attention to a problem that threatens the very existence of our Sunday School: the shortage of teachers. We have been unable to fill all classes with teachers even one Sunday since Sunday School began in September. This shortage of volunteer teachers causes the administrative team to teach each and every Sunday, leaving little time to complete other duties such as cleaning, organizing, bookkeeping and planning for future rotations. It also does not allow for team members to have a Sunday off from teaching.

Unfortunately, due to other commitments, the administrative team will be unable to continue in the same capacity next year. We will not be able to commit to teaching every Sunday along with being a member of the administrative team.

New volunteers need to become involved in our Sunday School and quickly. Our fear is that our Sunday School will begin to decline in attendance like so many other Sunday Schools surrounding us. Many other Sunday Schools consist of kids watching a video week after week. We do not want that to be us. Providing volunteer teaching for each and every Sunday is vital to the success of our Sunday School. We encourage everyone to help out our Sunday School, whether you are a parent, grandparent, sibling, or friend. Consider providing teaching coverage for just one rotation, 4 Sundays, out of the year. Pastor Brad says that Trinity rises to challenges. When a need arises, the members of Trinity answer the call. The call is out there. The church needs you, we need you, and the kids need you.

Sincerely,

Heidi Guy, Jessica Larson, and Shelia Lee Sunday School Administrative Team

Service Groups

Last month, you may have read about the new Service Groups at Trinity. These groups, picked by Pastor Brad, will, for this first year, supply funeral meal servers and food, ushers, and altar guild members. The hope is that in future years all readers and greeters will also come from these groups.

Each group has four Contact People. These Contact People, who are in bold, will be responsible for gathering the needed people and food for a funeral. If you would like to serve a funeral during a time when your Service Group is not in charge, you may do so. There may be times when we call for people from other Service Groups to serve if we have very large funerals or a few in a short span of time. Large events, like the Smelt Feed, Lefse & Bake Sale, etc, will still be filled by the entire congregation.

In the near future, you will receive in the mail a Time & Talent sheet in which you can check the various areas you are willing to serve Trinity. I hope you will prayerfully consider the ways in which you can use your talents at Trinity. You will also be asked about your preference of which Service Group you are willing to serve in for 2015.

Throughout the following pages are the Service Groups for 2014. Thank you for your service to God's mission at Trinity!

Seventy Years

By the time you're 70 years old, you will have spent nearly a quarter of a century sleeping. The average person spends about 23 years of his or her life in bed. Here are estimates of how most Americans spend their waking hours during those 70 years:

- 11 years working
- 8 years in leisure pursuits
- 6 years eating
- 5 years grooming
- 4 years being educated
- 3 years talking
- 2 years reading
- 6 months worshiping God

Perhaps Sunday morning worship isn't as long as it seems.

Narrative Lectionary Stories for February 2014

February 2: John 4:1-42Woman at the Well

Jews and Samaritans were at odds at the time of Jesus. They were both descendants of Israel, but they had long-standing disagreements that kept them separated. The cultural and religious differences, further exacerbated by the gender differences, made Jesus' encounter with the woman highly unusual. It was even more unlikely that she would become a witness to his prophetic words. This story highlights Jesus' message that God came not only for the Jews, but for all people. Like in Jesus' encounter with Nico-demus, Jesus' words were misunderstood. The woman believed she could drink Jesus' living water and then would no longer need to come to the well for daily water. She didn't understand Jesus was speaking of living water that would nourish the soul and lead to eternal life.

February 9: John 4:46—5:18 Healing Stories

Jesus' healings were the second sign of seven that Jesus performed in the Gospel of John. After each sign, there was a dialog, and then Jesus explained his sign. The question that arose with Jesus' healings was about his authority to do so. Jesus explained that his authority came from "the Father," which was itself a blasphemous (offensive against God) statement. Jesus was putting himself on the same plane with God, which was an unthinkable sin.

February 16: John 6:35-59 Bread of Life

Jesus' "I am" statements in the Gospel of John were intended to recall the name of God, as it was revealed to Moses before the Exodus. This helped hearers to view Jesus' divinity in the imagery he called upon to describe himself. Jesus' association with God ("I am") and heaven ("bread that came down from heaven") were blasphemous (offensive against God). Blasphemy was a serious crime, punishable by death. His words, although intended to bring life, instead brought punishment of death.

February 23: John 7:37-52 Living Water

By this point in John's gospel, Jesus' teaching was beginning to intrigue, confuse, and anger people. Some were starting to believe he was the Messiah based on his teachings and signs. Others felt threatened by his words and sought to kill him. The Festival of Booths was one of three major pil-grimages requiring Jews to travel to Jerusalem for the celebrations. The festival included ceremonies that celebrated light and water. Jesus indicated he was the source of living water and light, which amounted to blasphemy. Some debated his origin to gather proof of his blasphemy so that he could be stopped.

WOMEN OF TRINITY NOTES

Our deepest sympathy goes out to the Carol Marlett family and the Corrine Boda family. May your memories comfort you and your family. Thank you to the ladies that helped out in serving the funerals.

We packed 9 buckets and gave 5 plants for our shut-ins. Thank you to all that donated and helped get them together and delivered to the people. God's hands helping once again.

Well, my two years has finally come to an end. Can't believe where the time as gone. I have had an amazing time serving on the board with such a fantastic group of ladies. They always know what to do in whatever the duty calls for. I have to give them credit for always putting up with me, but then they are such a fun group that I think they fit right in with me! Some of us came into the board with no idea of what was going on and it sure is an eye opener to what goes on and it is a great experience in whatever the day brings. I have become aware of more than I ever dreamed of and so I want to say "Thank You" for putting your trust in me to do the job. It has been my pleasure serving on the board as President and knowing that Sandy Wheeler will do a amazing job in her term. You are in great hands!!

In my devotion for the December meeting, I had asked "What has the Trinity Women Done?" I was not talking about the board, I was talking about all of you that put your trust in all of us. You opened up doors and gave us the chance to become leaders, great friends and let some of our ideas come to life. We may have had different ways of doing some of these, but the outcome was always great. So "Thank You" for that.

I have thought that maybe I could start writing short stories, now that I will not be doing the Trinity Women Notes and yes, I will have to remind Sandy from time to time to keep Norma in line, but all in all I had the time of my life with the "Trinity Church Ladies Board." So "Thank You" ladies for always being there to help in whatever I needed and "Thank You" to PB for always keeping me informed on things that I needed to know and especially to Darla for being so patient wondering if my notes will get there on time and keeping me up to date on activities that go on. Well, these notes are due today so I need to end!

Before I close I need to remind Ted that his cookies will be waiting for him when he decides to come home next year!! Still sampling Ted!!

WOMEN OF TRINITY NOTES

First of all I want to thank Becky Nyhus for being an amazing W/ELCA President. She left some big shoes to fill and I hope that I am up to the task.

I know that a lot of you enjoyed reading Becky's newsletter articles. I can tell you this much, I am not the creative writer that she is. That being said, I hope that my articles don't bore you too much.

Thanks to Stub & Lynda Swenson for installing our new range hood, it looks great. They also put up three shelves with collector plates that they donated. Stop in the kitchen and take a look, they look very nice.

We cannot say THANK YOU enough to ALL of the people that came in to help with preparing the lefse. This has become a very special tradition here at Trinity and one that we hope continues for many years to come. These people stand on their feet for more hours than anyone should be expected to, but they do it because they want to be a part of this special event. There is so much laughter and wonderful conversations going on in the kitchen. What a way to get to know others and spend time with them. There are some that have been a part of this process since it all began. I know for a fact that there was a very special couple that was missed very much this year!!! THANK YOU Bill & Eloise Knutson for all of the years that you were such a big part of the lefse making. This year we give special thanks to Marlene and Howard Edlin for all of the hours that they spent here at the church during this time. It just wouldn't happen without you!!! Peggy Danovsky is trying to learn everything that she can from Marlene before she decides to hang up her apron; hopefully that will be a quite a few years down the road.

The Lefse and Bake Sale went very well. The tables were overflowing with all the wonderful goodies that were brought in. We truly are blessed with some really great bakers in our congregation. It was all so good that not one thing was left!!! To those that gave cash donations, thank you. Thanks to Dar Booth, Jan Theberge & Mary Roemhild for being there on Saturday to sell the goodies.

This year we had 14 people on the shut-in list. They either got a plant or a bucket of goodies. This is a small gesture to let them know that we are thinking of them. Hopefully they enjoy receiving them.

There was a small group that went to the Neighbors of Dunn County for a Christmas party for some residents. A little birdie told that it was very nice and the residents really enjoyed it!!!

January has started out on a very sad note. We have served two funerals at Trinity already. Our hearts go out to the families of Kiandra Schaffer and Dick Rosen. Please know that our thoughts and prayers are with your families.

I hope that we can accomplish many things in 2014. Your W/ELCA board is ready to get started.

Thank you to everyone who helped take down Christmas decorations.

Thank you to Bob Bird and OK Hedlund for filling for PB on December 29th.

Thank you to everyone who sent cards or gave us gifts for Christmas. Amy and I are truly blessed! Pastor Brad and Amy.

Thank you to Stub & Lynda Swenson for the donation of collector plates and the shelves for them. Thank you to Lyndon Schmidt for the many repairs done at church.

Thank you to Herb Dow for keeping the church warm during the frigid cold weather.

Equal Opportunity

When young Kelli said her prayers each night, she would bless every family member, every friend and every pet (current or past). Toward the end of her prayers, she'd say, "And all girls."

One night her father asked his daughter why she always ended that way.

"Because," she replied, "everybody else always finishes their prayers by saying, 'All men.'"

Communion on the Moon: July 20, 1969

Forty-three (4) years ago two human beings changed history by walking on the surface of the moon. Perhaps even more amazing is that Buzz Aldrin took communion on the surface of the moon.

Aldrin was an elder at his Presbyterian Church in Texas during this period in his life, and knowing that he would soon be doing something unprecedented in human history, he felt he should mark the occasion somehow, and he asked his minister to help him. And so the minister consecrated a communion wafer and a small vial of communion wine. And Buzz Aldrin took them with him out of the Earth's orbit and on to the surface of the moon.

He and Armstrong had only been on the lunar surface for a few minutes when Aldrin made the following public statement: "This is the LM pilot. I'd like to take this opportunity to ask every person listening in, whoever and wherever they may be, to pause for a moment and contemplate the events of the past few hours and to give thanks in his or her own way." He then ended radio communication and there, on the silent surface of the moon, 250,000 miles from home, he read a verse from the Gospel of John, and he took communion. Here is his own account of what happened:

In the radio blackout, I opened the little plastic packages which contained the bread and the wine. I poured the wine into the chalice our church had given me. In the one-sixth gravity of the moon, the wine slowly curled and gracefully came up the side of the cup. Then I read the scripture, 'I am the vine, you are the branches. Whosoever abides in me will bring forth much fruit. Apart from me you can do nothing.' I had intended to read my communion passage back to earth, but at the last minute [they] had requested that I not do this. NASA was already embroiled in a legal battle with Madelyn Murray O'Hare, the celebrated opponent of religion, over the Apollo 8 crew reading from Genesis while orbiting the moon at Christmas. I agreed reluctantly. I ate the tiny Host and swallowed the wine. I gave thanks for the intelligence and spirit that had brought two young pilots to the Sea of Tranquility.

It was interesting to think the very first liquid ever poured on the moon, and the very first food eaten there, were the communion elements. And of course, it's interesting to think that some of the first words spoken on the moon were the words of Jesus Christ, who made the Earth and the moon and Who, in the immortal words of Dante, is Himself the "Love that moves the Sun and other stars."

9 Verses That Aren't in the Bible

Several popular sayings can put biblical literacy to the test. For example, the phrases below aren't in Scripture — although some come pretty close:

• Money is the root of all evil.

(According to 1 Timothy 6:10, the love of money is a root of all kinds of evil.)

• Cleanliness is next to godliness. (The closest teaching to this might be in James 4:8.)

• God helps those who help themselves. (This proverb originated in ancient Greece, not in Scripture.)

• God moves in mysterious ways. (A verse kind of like this is Isaiah 55:8.)

• Spare the rod, spoil the child.

(British poet Samuel Butler coined this phrase, which could be a paraphrase of Proverbs 13:24.)

• This, too, shall pass.

(This occurs nowhere in the Bible but has been linked, incorrectly, to King Solomon.)

• Love the sinner, hate the sin.

(St. Augustine originally came up with a version of this phrase.)

• Charity begins at home.

(British theologian John Wycliffe is credited with this saying.)

• God will never give you more than you can bear. (This seems to be a misinterpretation of 1 Corinthians 10:13.)

Sixty...... but Seventy...... but Six...... as Sixty-four as Sixty-four

Fourteen you." Bighty-one hope Twenty-four hope." N E V E R - E N D I N G

Seven days a week, remind someone special about God's love, the gift that truly keeps on giving.

What you need:

- Large plastic pill box with a compartment for each day
- Construction paper
- Craft glue
- Black permanent marker
- Heart stickers
- Scissors

- BiblePencil
- 7 small treats (fish-shaped crackers, small candies, trail mix, etc.)

What you do:

- Glue paper onto the container. Write "God's Love" in permanent marker. Decorate with heart stickers.
- 2. Cut seven slips of paper. On each slip, write out one Bible verse about God's love. (Examples include Psalm 63:3; Psalm 100:5; John 3:16; John 15:12; Romans 5:8; 1 John 4:9.)
- 3. Fill each compartment with a different treat. Then place a folded slip atop each treat.
- 4. Give away the present. Tell the recipient to open the correct day for a week and then refill the treats and verses and "regift" God's love to someone else.
