

A year ago, I sat in my house, depressed and frustrated as I dealt with a broken ankle. When I look back at that time, I often wonder how I did not go crazy and lose my mind.

*Even though I walk through the darkest valley, I fear no evil;
for you are with me; your rod and your staff— they comfort me.*

Psalm 23:4

Brokenness. It is something that we all share, a feeling of not being whole, of being shattered by pain, guilt, sin, and grief. A relationship ends because of shattered trust. A loved one is taken by cancer. We feel consumed by the guilt of our own actions. Depression and anxiety and mental illness threaten to consume us. Our body is in pain that seems to never cease. Brokenness.

Restore us, O God; let your face shine, that we may be saved.

Psalm 80:3

We try really hard to hide our brokenness, to hide our pain and suffering from others. We say “fine” when asked how we are. We put a positive spin on every event even if in the midst of it feels like we are in a prison of despair, conflict, and darkness. We feel alone, cut off from others and most especially our Savior Jesus Christ. It feels as if love and joy has been erased from the world, that we are sick and will never be well again.

*When Jesus heard this, he said to them,
“Those who are well have no need of a physician, but those who are sick;
I have come to call not the righteous but sinners.”*

Mark 2:17

Jesus Christ has come for the broken. Jesus has come for the suffering. Jesus has come for the lost. Jesus has come for me. And Jesus has come for you. He has come to restore, to give hope, to bring light, to take the burdens and the pain and lighten our load. Jesus has come to love us broken people.

The LORD is near to the brokenhearted, and saves the crushed in spirit.

Psalm 34:18

It is ok to be broken. Do not be ashamed of your brokenness. Rather, trust in the Son of God who has come to heal you of that brokenness. Have faith in the one who willingly takes your burdens. See the hope, healing, life, and strength that is given to you by a gracious Savior.

*Come to me, all you that are weary and are carrying heavy burdens, and I will give you rest. Take my yoke upon you, and learn from me;
for I am gentle and humble in heart, and you will find rest for your souls.*

For my yoke is easy, and my burden is light.

Matthew 11:28-30

So many times in my life I have felt like I was broken beyond repair. So many times, like a year ago, have I fallen into a pit of pain and despair and sadness. And every time Jesus Christ has brought me back and restored. Today, right now, as you read this, remember that Jesus has come to free you from all bondage and brokenness. You will be restored. You will hope. You are loved. Jesus is here for you always. Thanks be to God.

New Look to the January Good News

To try and reduce the cost of the newsletter by reducing the number of pages to copy, I am using a different format. The print is smaller and there is less clip art to the pages. The same information is included as in the past but may be consolidated into one page. Your feedback would be helpful as I continue to produce future newsletters. Let me know what you think. What you like. What you don't like. Do you want the kid's coloring page and the kid's activity page? Do you want Bible verses? Thank you for your help! Darla

Washed Clean

Decorate a soap bottle as a reminder of how baptism cleans us on the inside.

What you need:

- Bottle of clear liquid hand soap
- Small craft pom-poms (different colors)
- Wooden skewer

What you do:

1. Remove the bottle label and unscrew the lid.
2. Using the skewer, push pom-poms down into the soap one at a time.
3. Replace the lid and put the dispenser in a bathroom or kitchen.

A fresh start

Baptism is a blessing because it changes us and gives us hope.

Directions: Write the boxed letters in the squares below. Then unscramble those letters to form two words that complete the Bible verse and represent the gift of baptism.

We were therefore buried with him through baptism into death in order that,
just as Christ was raised from the dead
through the glory of the Father,
we too may live a _____.
