“Blessed are you . . .”

We see that phrase a lot in the Bible. Blessed are you. What does that mean to you? What does it mean to be blessed? Does it mean lots of money? Good health? Lots of friends? Following a competent sports team? It can be a lot of things, and it can mean multiple things. Often, we compare ourselves to others, thinking to ourselves that we are blessed compared to someone else. “Thank God I’m not like them.” I’m not sure that is a very healthy or great way to look at ourselves or our neighbors. Because here is the thing: I wonder if being blessed is about things, or people. I think being blessed is about God.

I think we are all blessed. And I don’t think that blessing has anything to do with stuff. It doesn’t have anything to do with amounts, whether it is the numbers in a bank account, or the things in our house, or even how many good friends we have. I think being blessed is all about this: God. We are blessed because God calls us blessed.

And we are blessed not because we have earned that blessing. We are not blessed because we prayed a lot, or went to church every Sunday, or gave a tenth of our income, or read the Bible every day. Those are all things we should do, but that doesn’t make us blessed. We are blessed because we are children of God, heirs according to the promise. We are blessed because God loves us and has sent God’s only Son, Jesus Christ, to die for our sins and bring us to eternal life. That is what makes us blessed. Nothing else.

Of course, we receive blessings in this life, both material and otherwise, all gifts from God. But true blessing is the love and grace we have in Jesus Christ. That is what makes you blessed. May you remember that you are blessed today and may you give thanks for that blessing today and every day.

Yours in Christ,
Pastor Brad

Quilter's Corner

Quilter's Corner

Once again Andrea must remind me my notes are due. Seems like I just finished last month. First, I want to just update you all on how busy we quilters have been for 2024. We have made and given out 17 to our confirmands, West Cap received 41, care quilts are what we give to our own congregation and there were 17, North Carolina received 16, our comfort quilts that go to Mayo hospital in Menomonie were 37, 7 quilts went to Dunn County, Lutheran World Relief received 77, 5 quilts went to raffles and other donations, and last there were 20 baptism quilts. That makes about 237 total quilts, not to mention some I may have forgotten. I just remembered we made 2 for PB's dogs, Daphne and Baxter. They were excited when they received them. Well, now that makes a total of 239 quilts. So, our ladies have been very busy, and you can now understand why we have coffee and snacks at 10:00. We need to keep our energy going. Sometimes, it's not really a snack, it becomes a feast. And sometimes a nap after that would be great too. Maybe this new year will bring in more places to donate. We have such an amazing group that are willing to go just about anywhere in the church to put together a quilt, because our room becomes too packed. Hint, Hint!! Shirley Bloom is celebrating her 90th birthday in January and we also have Char Larson and Carol Erickson celebrating their 30th. Be sure and wish them a happy birthday! We have a new quilters calendar for 2025 so be sure and stop in our quilt room and take a peek. After you see the calendar, I am sure you will want to become a part of our beautiful group. Thanks for reading!

FUNERALS

*Darlene Hanson
January 16, 2025*

Dear Congregation,

Thank you so very much for your unending support towards the Boyceville Weekend Meals Program supporting our local families in need. The food pantry visits are up this year as well. We are very thankful for donations of food, personal care items, monetary support and gifts of time many of the members at Trinity donate through volunteering at West CAP. Without this faithful support we could not be as effective in meeting the needs of our community. May you all have a happy and healthy 2025!

Warm regards,

Melissa J Larson
